

LINDBERGH AWARD | CORPORATE AWARD FOR BALANCE

HONORING THE NATURE/TECHNOLOGY BALANCE

NOMINATION FORM

In their life encompassing aviation, exploration, conservation, the sciences and the humanities, Charles and Anne Morrow Lindbergh developed a philosophy that the preservation and enhancement of the quality of life on Earth is dependent upon the establishment and maintenance of a balance between our advancing technology and our natural environment. The Lindbergh Foundation was established in 1977 to further their vision of such a balance, and the Lindbergh Award program is one of the ways the Foundation pursues this mission. Each year, the Lindbergh Award is given to recognize an individual(s) for significant contributions over many years toward balancing technology and nature. The Corporate Award for Balance honors corporations or organizations whose business practices demonstrate a commitment to fostering our environment.

NOMINATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Complete this nomination form.
2. Provide a 1-2 page executive summary outlining the nominee's accomplishments and clearly state how these achievements have made significant contributions toward balancing our technological advancement and environmental preservation.
3. Attach a letter of support from another individual, seconding your nomination. Additional letters of support may be included, if desired.
4. Attach supplementary material concerning the nominee and his/her/its accomplishments, a biographical sketch, curriculum vitae, newspaper and magazine articles (no more than 3 articles, please), statements/speeches by the nominee, award citations, etc. A separate bibliography of supplementary articles or web references also may be included. Material should be submitted on one side of each page only, and should not exceed 20 total pages. Nominations not including at least a minimum of supplementary materials cannot be considered.
5. All nominations must be submitted in the English language.

DEADLINE

Nominations must be received by December 15.
